WILLINGNESS TO RETRACT.

The sincerity of an editor lies in his willingness to retract an incorrect statement. In view of this fact, it would be wise for an editor not to have exceeding much over reports of outrages, etc., unless well founded. The Galveston News is one of the few papers which never refuses to correct false reports to which they may have given too ready credence. The many campaign lies which have been circulated by the various papers recently have shown up those papers in their true aspect. When the lies were nailed those papers which were sincere in their assertions regarding them, openly acknowledged their mistakes, while others completely ignored all statements and even affidavits proving the falsity of reports which they had circulated.

NEW YORK is wild with excitement over Cleveland's election.

CANDIDATES and voters alike are thinking complimentary things about each other.

It is thought probable that Edwin Booth's health will not permit him to return to the stage. American drama suffers a great loss in him.

THE candidate who had enough promises to elect him, yet failed to get there is probably wondering "how some men can be such liars."

A good newspaper will not refuse to give its readers the news regardless of its bearing on any cause or theory the paper itself may be advocating.

It seems that Prince Bismarck has proven himself to be somewhat on the order of Texas' senior senator. He has sacrificed his dignity by the use of offensive personal remarks in a public interview. Bismarck has long been considered one of the very greatest living statesmen, and it is to be regretted that he has done anything to lower himself in the eyes of the world.

ANOTHER seeker of notoriety has started out on a tramp. He undertakes to start from New Orleans and tramp around the United States, going west to the Pacific coast, traversing the coast northward, thence across the northern border, and down along the Atlantic coast, and westward again along the Gulf to New Orleans. He undertakes to make the trip in two years, walking the entire distance.

DOUBTLESS most of the campaign lies which have been circulated and subsequently "nailed" during the past few months had some foundation in their incipency. They owed their existence to a spirit which favors their own cause or may injure the cause of an opponent. The famous old story of the man who was reported as vomiting three black crows is a very good example, and many of the campaign lies of recent existence were of a similar nature.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The order prescribing 20 days' detention of all ships bringing immigrants to American ports will be continued in force. This will virtually prohibit further immigration until repealed.

Private Iams has lost his suit for assault and battery against the militia officials who ordered his punishment at Homestead.

The New Orleans boards of trade has issued a call to all other boards of trade to send delegates to a convention to be held in New Orleans on Nov. 30, in the interest of the Nicaragua canal.

A heavy snow storm is reported from the north. In Minnesota 6 inches of snow fell Monday.

THE strike in New Orleans is assuming grave proportions. The employees of both gas and electric companies have refused to work, throwing the city into total darkness. Printers, telephone line men and street car employees have also joined the general strike. A general tie-up in all lines of business has resulted. Even newspaper carriers have struck and are assaulting boys who attempt to deliver papers. Such a general strike and tie-up was perhaps never before known.

ABOUT THE ELECTION.

From Over the State.

There seems to be no doubt that Hogg is elected governor. All dispute now is over majorities and pluralities. The Houston Post claims Hogg's majority over Clark $4,000. Chairman Baker puts it at 60,000. The San Antonio Express concedes Hogg's election by 30,000. Nugent runs about 20,000 behind Clark.

From Cuero.

To Hon. J. B. Wells.
Brownsville.
Cleveland and Orin undoubtedly elected. Thanks to Cameron and Hidalgo for splendid majorities, and friends in Starr county for noble fight.

(Signed) W. H. CRAIN.

From Corpus.

Turner carries Nueces county two hundred. Clark carries county two hundred. Crain carries it by six hundred and fifty. Hopkins elected county judge. McLeomore elected to the legislature.

From Galveston.

Clark carried Galveston county six hundred. Greenham elected to congress by about three thousand.

From Bellon.

Gao. C. Pendleton, democrat, elected to congress from that district.

From Victoria.

Kenedy democrat, defeated Ellis, republican, for legislature in this county.

At the National Capital.

Washington, Nov. 8.—This has been an eventful night here. By 10 o'clock the republicans had thrown up the sponge. The lights in the White House were dimmed although the president did not abandon all hope until the eleventh hour, when the returns from Illinois clearly indicated that the State had gone democratic by a small but safe majority. It has been a bitter pill for the republicans, although it must be confessed that the more conservative friends of the administration during the past few days have felt that democratic victory was in the air, and somewhat prepared for the landslide to night. The democrats can hardly contain themselves. From 10 o'clock up to midnight the air was filled with democratic voices singing:

"Grover, Grover, four years more of Grover," etc.

Of course this was galling to the republicans, but they were in no position to say anything.

The later returns received here by the democratic committee to the effect that Cleveland and Stevenson have 244 electoral votes without Indiana. The only surprise to the democrats was the news received from Delaware, which indicated that that State had strayed from the democratic fold. There is some doubt about Indiana, but the democrats believe that the State has gone democratic by a small majority. When the returns had indicated that Cleveland's election was certain, the name of the democratic candidate in letters of fire was flashed to their public in front of the Courier Journal bureau. This made doubtful democrats feel good and they cheered the name to the echo. It presented a pretty picture. It has been a grand victory and the next house is democratic by a large majority.

New York Abate.

New York, Nov. 8.—After the calm of the election today the storm has struck the city with terrific force. Every portion of the city is wild with excitement. Cleveland carried New York by 25,000 majority. All the other doubtful States have fallen into line and now at 12 o'clock it is an assured fact that Cleveland will be the next president. The information comes direct from Richard Crocker, the Tammany chief, and verified by the Herald's bureau.

The Hoffman house is a burning mass of sporting humanity, and they are now celebrating the victory of democracy.

Tammany polled the largest vote ever recorded in its existence.

The Fifth avenue hotel delegation, all republicans, look sore and doubt the authentic reports regarding the overwhelming majority vote throughout the United States for Cleveland.

The force bill, the tariff and the silver question from a republican standpoint won the great battle for democracy.

"The Golden Caves."

M. Quao, whose Limekiln club and Arizona Kicker have been household themes for years, has just completed a thrilling story with the above title, which we have made exclusive arrangements for publishing. It will appear at an early day, and our readers should keep a sharp lookout lest they miss the opening chapters.
